

Boston Sept. 14. 1845

My dear Anna;

The Liberty Bell is to come out as usual at the fair - ("The grand National Anti-Slavery Bazaar in Faneuil Hall" - I ask its pardon,) & we are very desirous to have a short article from you.
Keep the cause & oblige us at a single stone's throw:- Such a one as you have from Northampton with a Bell marked upon it & an inscription thou of the highest value, as our estimate is. That rock ornaments my drawing room, as the pedestal to a little Bronze Statue of Louis of Anjou, where I wish you may see D. L. Child Esq.

it. We intend to have a "two days meeting" at the close of the year — speaking every night. Fair not to be on hand then. I send on the "packet full of rocks" in season for the Lib. Bell. The Deference is always in poetry & narrative. If you write the latter, remember how small the pages are. About two newspaper columns would be all the room to turn in, or well-nigh.

I have written to Mrs Chubb begging her to write also. If I could get you both on at the time of the Fair I should rejoice, but one or both, come if possible, & be sure to write forthwith for the Bell.

Yours sincerely,
A. W. Chapman
